NEW YORK STOCKS STILL ON A RISE

Chicago Court Decision Inspires the Bull Traders.

PROFIT-TAKING MUCH IN EVIDENCE

Market in Afternoon Shows Tendency to Irregularity in Prices, Though Generally Steady.

NEW YORK, July 15 .- The stock market today is strong and justifies the boast of the balls that prices are to go higher Much satisfaction is expressed over the decision of the Chicago cour in the Standard Oil case, and the buoyancy of the market this mornam was attributable quite largely to the

Liverpool cables brought the informa

Liverpool cables brought the information that American stocks were weaker in London, 2nd that realizing sales were on in earnest, but this did not affect the market here. The opening was firm and prices gained in the early trading, receiving the usual setback during the first hour from realizing sales, steadle and continued upon its upward way. The feature of the trading in the early part of the day was the attention paid to stocks that have been less active of late, such as Missouri Pacific and others of the Central West group of lines. Trading was much wider distributed than yesterday, and the big leaders, like Reading, Union Pacific, and Great Northern were less active than they have been previously upon this movement.

Westinghouse Electric was again active and strong, advancing 15½ points during the first hour of trading. This makes a gain of nearly 26 points in the last two days. It made a jump of points on one quotation of 100 shares.

cropped out in the Steel share, which made them slightly irregular soon after noon.

The market in the middle of the afternoon was strong, and the general list was showing gradual gains, with the irregularities mentioned. The attitude of traders was hopeful and trading about normal volume for this movement.

About the middle of the afternoon the old leaders became active and higher in price, resuming their place in the records of the day. Reading, Union Pacific, Smelters, and the Steels steadied and hardened to near the highest points of the day.

The market closes steady and strong and with nothing in sight to give the bull manipulators any anxiety. Profit taking appears to be about the only power that can weaken the market, and most of those who sell out buy again in some of the cheaper shares, hoping for another turn. This largely accounts for the increased activity in some of the hitherto neglected shares today.

There was a weak effort to effect some trading, President Hume even announcing his firm belief that Washington Gas stock would sell at 85 before the fall of snow, but the trading was lacking, and the tendency seemed to be to let things drift, so that prices in a number of instances were pegged lower than they have recently been.

guiet demand prevailed for produce today. Receipts were lighter in fruit and vegetables, with the result that prices were marked up in a majority of instances. Arrivals of livestock, however, were heavy in a dull market, and the recent slump in this line was continued. Eggs were firm, with a steady market at better than quoted prices.

The best grade of eggs command a market at better than quoted prices.

The best grade of eggs command a market for livestock was the arval of quantities of young pigs in ties, to be sold as per bids. String uns and green corn were considerably ler.
